

TWO ROCHELLE YOUTHS KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP

CHARGED PLOT TO BLACKMAIL MORRISON MAN

"Unholy Angels" Taken in Custody in Sterling Last Night

(Telegraph Special Service)
Morrison, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Presence of two cars loaded with officers from Sheriff Kelly's office at the Lincoln Tavern in Sterling last evening, is believed to have warranted off a well planned attempt at blackmail directed against Pierce Tilton of this city, well known automobile dealer. Mrs. Mary Burke, aged 24, and her 15 year old sister, Miss Alva Shuck, known as the "Unholy Angels" were taken in custody in the Illinois theater at Sterling last evening after the plan had been frustrated by the officers. The Burke woman had jumped from a car and ran through lots west of the hotel and entered the theater with her younger sister, where they were joined by a third sister.

Several days ago Mr. Tilton in opening his mail, opened a letter which he later learned was addressed to a man named Larkey and employed in Tilton's garage. The letter was said to have been of a "slushy" trend and was unsigned. Tilton notified Larkey of having mistakenly opened his mail and the latter denied any knowledge of the missive or the writer.

Invited to Date
A few days ago a strange woman came to the garage and inquired of Mr. Tilton for Mr. Larkey. She remained but a short time and disappeared. Three days ago Mr. Tilton received a letter in which he was asked to drive alone to Sterling and meet the "Unknown Blonde" at the corner of the Lincoln Tavern. The letter further stated that the writer was a member of the "Unholy Angels" and is said to have commented upon the good times to be had. This missive was turned over to Sheriff Jerry Kelly, who advised the automobile dealer to comply with the requests.

Last evening a watch was kept on the garage as Mr. Tilton started for Sterling in his car alone and with the red and yellow ribbons on the radiator cap. According to the statement given out by Sheriff Kelly this morning Larkey was also watched and instead of going from the garage to his home, he went to Sterling, following his employer.

Forced Car to Curb.
Sheriff Kelly and his deputies took up their positions near the Lincoln Tavern corner where they could watch the Tilton car. Another machine was seen to make several trips past Tilton's car. Tilton, acting on the advice of the officers, drove west of the hotel a short distance, when the second car forced him to the curb. It was then that the officers surrounded the second machine and found Larkey at the wheel. In an attempt to get away from the officers, Larkey is said to have attempted to run down one of the deputies, but was halted by the sight of a revolver. The Burke woman leaped from Larkey's car and ran across lots from the scene to the theater where she joined her sisters and was later taken in custody.

Larkey is said to have admitted the attempted blackmail before the women were located and later Mrs. Burke told the officers of having written the letter to Tilton and planning the coup. Whiteside county officials declared today that the 15-year-old girl, Alva Shuck, was a party in a similar case recently. She was questioned last night and then sent to her home in Sterling. It was indicated today that the entire matter would be placed before the Whiteside county grand jury next week for investigation.

One Juror Secured in Trial of H. Hill
Ottawa, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Wearied by the legal wrangling and tedious preliminary maneuvering of attorneys in the trial of Harry Hill, accused of shooting his mother and burying her body in the basement of her home at Streator, the crowds in attendance at each session dwindled perceptibly today.

Seats in the circuit court room were not more than half filled as the trial got under way. With one juror accepted, Attorney A. H. Shay for the defense continued examination of the veniremen.

At the noon adjournment 25 veniremen had been called to the jury box, seventeen had been examined and only one tentatively accepted by the court.

HOPE TO ENTER S-4 TODAY AND RECOVER BODIES

Fulfillment of Hope Depends Entirely Upon Weather

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Divers hoped to penetrate the hull of the sunken S-4 off this harbor today for the first time since the submarine went down with its 40 officers and men nearly two weeks ago.

Whether they will be able to do so will depend entirely upon weather conditions. Southwest storm warnings have been hoisted on Monument Hill and the seas are high and long.

Operations were halted yesterday by the gale, but not before the second tunnel under the hull through which raising chains are to be passed had been almost completed.

There was some possibility that bodies of several of the victims might be brought to the surface today.

HUNT SLAYER OF TRAMP IN JUNGLE NEAR PERU TODAY

No Trace Found However, of Suspected Murderer

Peru, Ill. — That the unidentified man whose body was found on the ice in the Illinois river near the central pier of the Rock Island bridge at Ottawa, Tuesday, was murdered is the theory on which Ottawa police officials are working. It became known today.

The man was known to his pals as "Wingy" and "Crip". They believe that he may have been robbed and "done away with" by his pal "Scotty".

Coroner L. D. Howe, inquiring into the man's death, has ordered a ten days continuance of the case in order that further investigation can be made.

Bad Character
The authorities base their belief that "Wingy" was murdered on the testimony given by William Morris, James Murray and John Morgan. All three men claim that "Scotty" is a bad character and that he might have murdered his friend in order to obtain money which "Wingy" is believed to have had.

The men said that "Wingy" was too proud to be a hobo, having lacked the courage to beg for food, often going hungry as the result. "Scotty" had made the assertion that he was going to "ditch" his pal "Wingy" because he wouldn't beg for food, and the only reason he was staying with him was because his ex-service man's pension money from the government was to arrive soon.

No Trace Found
"Wingy" had said that he was going to Joliet postoffice and get a letter in which the pension check would be found. Christmas day he was last seen in the jungles near Rockdale with his pal, Tuesday night "Scotty" was seen in Peru, alone. He had gone to the Peru jail to seek lodging and then withdrew. After learning that "Scotty" was sought as a murder suspect, Peru police conducted a search for him but no trace of the man could be found.

REMUS ADJUDGED INSANE BY PROBATE JUDGE AND IS SENT TO OHIO CRIMINAL ASYLUM

Finds Wife Murderer Dangerous Person to be at Large

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 30.—(AP)—George Remus today was found insane in a decision handed down by Judge William H. Lueders of the Hamilton County Probate Court.

The report of the alienists upon which Judge Lueders acted read as follows: "We, the undersigned, appointed to examine George Remus as to his sanity, beg leave to submit the following:

"After a careful physical and mental examination, the hearing of the testimony and a review of the history of the case, we find said George Remus sane.

"We also find that said George Remus is a psychopath and therefore is a dangerous individual to be at large. We believe that he is a dangerous psychopath because he is unusually lacking a sense of ethics, emotionally unstable, being subject to unrestrained outbreaks of temper and rage and egocentric to a pathological degree.

"H. H. Hoppe, M. D.
"Thomas A. Ratliff, M. D.
"Howard D. McIntyre, M. D."

Judge Lueders left no doubt that he, with the sole decision in the matter, found Remus insane.

"From the evidence, testimony and exhibits submitted in this case the court is of the opinion and finds George Remus now insane and a dangerous person to be at large," read his finding.

"It is therefore ordered that George Remus be committed to the Lima state hospital for the insane, and there be confined until such time when he has been restored to reason or until otherwise discharged by due process of law."

The decision followed by two days a one day test of Remus' sanity made mandatory by the verdict of the jury which ten days ago found him not guilty of the murder of his estranged wife, Imogene, on the sole ground of insanity.

Remus was not in court when Judge Lueders handed down his decision, but was represented by Charles H. Elston, who was associate counsel with Remus in the murder trial.

Elston turned an ashen grey when Judge Lueders finally reached the final paragraphs of his decision after reading through two long typewritten pages.

Newspapermen rushed to Remus in his cell on the same floor as the probate court.

He accepted the finding with a harsh laugh but calmly said: "Is that so?" Well, well."

He thought a moment and then added: "The decision is so farcical, such a joke that it makes a sane person laugh. It is so humorous."

Elston immediately planned an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas.

It was brought out in the Probate Court sanity hearing that Remus adhered to his previously expressed opinion that it would be a legal but not moral wrong for him to slay Franklin L. Dodge, Jr., of Lansing, Mich., former federal department of justice agent.

To Dodge Remus attributes all his troubles. Dodge was said to have been instrumental in working up the case which wrecked Remus' gigantic illicit liquor enterprise and sent him to the Atlanta federal penitentiary.

Dodge then, according to evidence adduced at the murder trial, began an association with Remus which drove the former Chicago lawyer and "king of bootleggers" mad.

SAYS HE KNOWS WHERE H. OLSON, SLAYER, IS NOW

Lumberman, Visitor in Dixon, Gives Sheriff Some Data
Acting upon information received late yesterday afternoon, Sheriff Ward Miller was today communicating with Sheriff Haggerty of Prairie du Chien, Wis., with a view toward locating Herman Olson, for whom a search has been under way for the past year. Olson is charged with the murder of Clara Olson in Crawford county about a year ago.

S. B. Taylor, a Wisconsin lumberman, who is visiting with relatives in this city, furnished Sheriff Miller with information late yesterday afternoon which was immediately communicated to the Wisconsin authorities. Taylor is said to have information of the Lee county sheriff that he knew where Olson was in hiding and told of having seen the much sought for young man on two occasions this fall.

In Taylor's story to the sheriff, he stated that Olson walked into a lumber camp in August with his belongings in a pillow case, searching for employment. In the month of September, Taylor told Sheriff Miller that he saw Olson a second time on a ferry boat operating between Superior, Wis., and Duluth, Minn.

On the latter occasion, the lumberman stated that he went in search of an officer after leaving the ferry at the Duluth pier to effect Olson's arrest, but that the young man was soon lost in the crowd and could not be located.

Taylor claims to be able to locate Olson at the present time and inquired of Sheriff Miller of the amount of the reward offered for his arrest. The information which Taylor volunteered to Sheriff Miller was immediately forwarded to Sheriff Haggerty at Prairie du Chien, the county seat of Crawford county and a reply is now being awaited.

Investigation Okla. Government Ended

Oklahoma City, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Abandonment of impeachment proceedings in Oklahoma's latest political insurrection has left administration leaders claiming a victory for the state courts and vindication for "the orderly processes of government."

Decision of the Senate to the self-convened legislature that the House had no right to assemble and prefer charges against Governor Henry S. Johnston and two other officials came as a surprise to many legislators.

Representative H. Tom Knight, chairman of the House investigating committee, and his lieutenants accepted the Senate decree yesterday with little apparent opposition.

E. P. Hill, speaker of the House, announced that so far as he was concerned the effort to have an investigation of public affairs was ended.

Governor Johnston's first act was to muster out the three units of the National Guard, mobilized Dec. 12 with orders to prevent all sessions of the legislators.

Speaking for the administration the governor said: "The next legislature will have complete and lawful authority when it meets a year hence to make whatever investigation it seems advisable, by constitutional methods."

GIRL PICTURED SELF AS SLAVE OF NEW ORLEANS WOMAN WHO IS ARRESTED ON FEDERAL WARRANT
New Orleans, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Picturing herself to officers as a victim of slavery and privation, Anna Lamu, 21 year old German girl, today was quartered in a charity hospital where directors said she was suffering from under-nourishment and bodily injuries allegedly inflicted upon her by her mistress, Mrs. Mabel Sebros Arico, wife of a local automobile salesman.

Mrs. Arico, 28, yesterday was released under $5000 bond to await action of a federal grand jury on charges of violating federal statutes prohibiting slavery.

Anna was turned over to police by persons who declared they found her searching cabbage cans in search of food.

The girl described a long siege of near-starvation and injuries, which she said began soon after she offered her services in return for a home at the Arico bungalow. This was four years ago, she said, explaining that she had feared to leave because her mistress said police would tar and feather her if she deserted the Arico home.

PRESENTMENT IN JURY TAMPERING CASE RETURNED

Capital Grand Jurors Override District Atty. Gordon
Washington, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Balked by the District Attorney's office in its efforts to return indictments in the oil jury tampering case, the federal grand jury here today made "presentments" roundly scoring the principals in the proceedings, and asserting that the evidence gathered constituted sufficient proof of conspiracy.

District Attorney Gordon had declined to draw indictments against Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns, and their associates who figured in the shadowing of the Fall-Sinclair oil jury, while the contempt cases against them were pending. Unable to obtain the indictments the grand jury decided to make its report anyway for such action as might be decided upon.

Dorsey Hyde, foreman of the grand jury, insisted that the presentment, which also named W. Sherman Burns, of the Burns detective agency; Sheldon Clark and Henry Mason Day, Sinclair oil officials, Charles G. Ruddy and Frank J. O'Reilly, must be acted upon by the District Attorney's office.

District Attorney Gordon said he would not draw up indictments on the basis of the presentment, adding that in view of the contempt proceedings which have not yet been concluded, he thought it best not to return indictments at the present time.

The District Attorney disagreed with Hyde that action was necessary on the presentment itself. He said none was necessary and that none would be taken.

"FOX" DEFENSE DECIDED UPON; IT IS INSANITY

Attorneys Decided on Course: Will Plead Next Tuesday
BULLETIN
Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Jerome K. Walsh, Kansas City attorney here to defend William E. Hickman, confessed kidnaper and slayer of Marian Parker, today definitely indicated that insanity would be the plea of the accused youth.

Los Angeles, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Reversing their previous opinion that the kidnapping, murder and mutilation of Marian Parker was a "one man job," Los Angeles police today started to work on the theory that William Edward Hickman had an accomplice.

Police expressed doubts that the 12-year-old girl would have remained quietly in her abductor's automobile while he left it to send telegrams or mail letters to her father.

The investigators said one phase of the inquiry was centered in the possibility that 16 year old Welby Hunt, confessed confederate of Hickman in a series of Kansas City, Texas, and Pacific coast holdups, one of which resulted in the fatal shooting of Ivy Thoms, Roschell, Cal., druggist, may have assisted in the kidnapping of the Los Angeles school girl.

These police suspicions found no support in the confession of Hunt. "Why, I'd have turned my own brother over to the police for a crime like that," Hunt declared.

Hunt Suspicious.
He said he had suspected Hickman, with the slaying when he read his description in the newspapers prior to the identification by the police.

He said he and his step-grandmother, Mrs. Sarrile Driskell, of Alhambra, with whom Hickman lived for a time, communicated their suspicions to the police.

Hunt will be questioned closely, the police said, as to his activities during the days from the time of the kidnapping of Marian until the body was delivered to her father and $1500 collected.

In the meantime, sheriff's officers who obtained from Hickman the confession to the second murder, the shooting of Thoms in a gun battle with a policeman during an attempted drug store holdup by the two youths, endeavored to pin the guilt of further crimes on the pair.

Prepare Indictment.
A county grand jury made preparations to take up the investigation to vote on a second murder indictment against Hickman and a similar action against Hunt in connection with the death of the druggist. The grand jury, according to prosecution officials, also will include the questioning of Hickman regarding several brutal murders in the vicinity of Chicago last fall at a time when the (Additional Society on Page 2)

Three Companions in Sedan Injured on Meridian Road
Burdette Pentz, aged 20, and Michael Vaughan, Jr., aged 17, both of Rochelle, are dead as the result of an automobile accident a short distance south of New Milford at 11 o'clock Thursday night, when the sedan in which they and three companions were returning to Rochelle from Rockford, left the road at a bad curve south of the old Gary Railroad viaduct, and crashed into a hickory tree, tearing the entire right side off the automobile.

The injured, all of whom are now in the Rockford hospital, are: Stanley Pierce, Jr., 18, Creston—deep cut in neck and severe bruises about shoulder; condition favorable. Tony Herrmann, 25, Rochelle—cuts about head and shoulders; condition not serious. John Daum, 18, Steward—numerous cuts about head; not serious.

Crashed Into Tree.
The five young men, who had been in Rockford to attend a theater, were returning home on the Meridian Highway, with Pierce at the wheel of the sedan. Rounding the curve at a speed said to have been about fifty miles an hour, the driver lost control of the car and it hurtled off the road and into a hickory tree, the right side of the auto being practically slashed off.

Pentz, who was riding in the front seat with the driver, was catapulted through the windshield, being instantly killed. His head was badly crushed when he struck the ground about ten feet from the car.

Injuries Fatal.
Vaughan, who was on the extreme right side of the rear seat, received injuries which caused his death at the Rockford hospital at 9 o'clock this morning. He was hurled through the right rear door of the car, his body carrying the door with it, and at the hospital it was stated he had sustained a fractured skull, broken jaw bone and fractured right shoulder and elbow.

Coaches Want Changes in Rules Eliminated
New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—After short debate over the changes made early this year in the football rules, the American Football Coaches Association today approved a recommendation to eliminate the alterations affecting use of the lateral pass and the recovery of fumbled punts. The coaches voted in favor of returning to the 1926 rules affecting these features.

In voting to make two important changes in the rules, the coaches took issue with Mr. Hall whose report yesterday recommended a "status quo" in the game for next year.

MOTHER LOVE SECOND ONLY TO THAT OF GOD—

The chief thing which crowns all true motherhood is her unselfish love. A mother's love is eternal, it never dies. It makes no difference how deep in sin her child may go her love never fails. No one perhaps has more accurately described the love of a mother than Kipling in "Mother O' Mine."

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose tears would come down to me,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

If I were damned of body and soul,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine!

Only the love of the infinite God above us surpasses that of a true mother. Irving said, "A mother is the true friend we have, when trials and heavy and sudden fall upon us; when adversity takes the place of prosperity; when friends who rejoice with us in our sunshine desert us; when troubles thicken around us, still will she cling to us and endeavor by her kind precepts and counsels to dissipate the clouds of darkness and cause peace to return to our hearts. God has given to us many beautiful varieties of flowers. He has given us many kinds of precious ore, but He has given us only one mother that we might treasure her the more." The ways of love and tenderness are never out of style; remember this and tell her so—don't wait till after awhile. Let not affection wear with years! It waneeth not for you.

Pink Satin Will Form Sports Dresses

By MAZEL REAVIS

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
Paris (AP)—Satin, pink preferred, is displayed as the newest thing for sports wear wherever fashionable collect in the south of France.

The most pretentious style houses create branch shops along the Riviera at cities like Cannes, Nice, and Monte Carlo. These shops de luxe, as well as the main style salons, here, are displaying the satin dresses. Riviera sunshine no doubt had something to do with the selection of pink but Paris is behind the choice of satin. All the lovely blue frocks which Paris sent to the south last season were faded after a few weeks under the Mediterranean sun. Likewise some of the greens. So this season pink, a color which the sun seems to approve, is being tried.

Crepe de chine and feather-weight kashas, after several seasons of supremacy were due to yield, at least temporarily, to a more novel fabric. Satin with its more feminine, formal note, is enjoying a huge vogue in France. It will not be strange if it invades the sports field, as sport clothes once swept satin out of the afternoon category.

Another innovation in sports wear, only suitable at present for winter resort patrons, is the handkerchief belt. It is a square handkerchief scarf with a colored border rolled cornwise, passed through the belt loops of a sport dress and tied in a knot at the left side. The style is a feminine steal from masculine sport clothes for men have worn scarf-belts with white flannels for several seasons now.

The square scarf continues to be an important part of the southern costume and no doubt is due for continued favor this spring. Worth is showing new scarfs of black with red or white polka dots in the center and plain borders, or polka dotted borders and plain centers. Scarfs of pastel plaids are still favorites.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Baked winter pears, cereal cooked with dates, cream, crisp broiled bacon, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Fruit cocktail, browned rice, brown bread and jelly sandwiches, milk, tea.

DINNER—Roast spareribs, potatoes baked with meat, apple sauce, creamed turnips, bran rolls, pineapple cream, milk, coffee.

Odds and ends of fresh or canned fruits can be used to advantage in fruit cocktails at the beginning of a meal as in the luncheon menu. The principle of combining two tart fruits and one mild one is worth following—if possible, or marinate the fruits in tart orange juice or lemon juice. A cocktail should always be tart to whet the appetite.

Browned Rice

One sweet green pepper, one onion, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup well washed rice, 1 quart can tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon pepper.

Remove seeds and pith from pepper and mince flesh very fine. Peel and mince onion. Melt butter in a large shallow sauce pan or spider. Add minced onion and pepper and rice well washed and dried. Stir until thoroughly mixed and each grain of rice coated with butter. Cook until mixture is a golden brown. Rub tomatoes through a coarse sieve to remove seeds. Add water, sifted tomatoes, salt, cloves, cinnamon and pepper to rice mixture. Cook slowly and uncovered until mixture is thick. Serve very hot on a deep platter or shallow vegetable dish. Tart tomatoes will be improved by the addition of one or two teaspoons sugar.

Entertained For William Edwards

Last evening, Mrs. Harry Edwards delightfully entertained a group of young people at dinner, followed by bridge, the pleasant affair being held as a surprise for William Edwards, nephew of Judge and Mrs. Harry Edwards, who is home for the holidays from the Northwestern Military Academy at Walworth, Wis. Christmas decorations in the home were most attractive and the beautifully appointed table was decorated in red and green. Festoons of Christmas holly fringed the rooms, and the table bore Christmas candles and garlands and flowers. The favors were unique and appropriate, as the guests nearly all attend school or college, the favors for the girls were tiny hat boxes, and there were suit cases for the boys.

At bridge following the dinner Miss Frances Kratz was awarded the favor for high score; Miss Helen Hudson receiving the consolation favor; while Mark Keller received the favor for high score for the boys and William Edwards received the consolation favor. It proved to be one of the most successful and enjoyable parties for the younger folks, during the holiday season.

The following English menu was served: pork pie, head cheese salad with fruit, individual mince pie, English nut tarts, maids of honor, white fruit cake, roly poly cake, English plum pudding, tea in English style, mints, nuts and English chocolates. The guests who were entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brough and daughter, Miss Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Brown and Mrs. Albert Ferris. The affair was carried out in English form and was a very enjoyable affair.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by AILENE SUMNER

Quite a to-do is made about young Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hermann of New York, who have just entered a legal partnership with "Hermann and Hermann" in black letters on the plate glass office door. We are reminded that this is almost an unprecedented move in America. Page after page of newspaper and magazine space is devoted to wonderings if a marriage can succeed when the marital partners not only live together but work together, thus seeing each other at a 24-hour stretch.

MARRIAGE HERE AND THERE

This is the essential difference between a marriage here and a marriage abroad. Husbands and wives run a business together in France, Italy, Germany, Spain or Russia, just as a matter of course. If it is a wine or tobacco shop, the madame tends the till while papa fills orders. If it's a restaurant she tends the till or cooks or waits on table while he markets and adds up bills and fills water glasses. And the divorce rate abroad is infinitely smaller than ours.

POIRET OPINES

Paul Poiret, famous designer, is aghast at the American girls' display of legs and their clinging to one style for five years at a time. He reminds us that we have maintained just about the same skirt length for the last five years and that it's too short for beauty.

Poiret recalls that when he came to this country in 1912 he brought pictures of gowns which Parisians were then wearing, gowns with skirts just above the ankles, which were seized by customs authorities as "immoral". Then came these words of wisdom from Monsieur Poiret—

"American women seem to think that if they dressed uniquely and individually it would lessen their standing as mothers and homemakers. A woman, after all, is a wife before she is a mother. Her duty as a wife is greater than as a mother. In her home she should attire herself attractively, seductively, to please and hold her husband when he comes from his work. That's woman's big duty."

To which I rejoined, "Applesauce!"

BOUNCING BABY

A 17-pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russ of Cleveland, O. Pictures were taken of the proud parents and the new infant. Funny how parental pride thrives on each extra ounce a new-born baby has, when it is proven again that baby size has positively nothing to do with future ability of the child in any way! It's probably just a sample of eternal human striving to accomplish something out of the ordinary.

TRUE STORY

A doughty marine stepped into a trinket shop in Shanghai and smack into the arms of his sweetheart whom he hadn't seen for years and whom he supposed dead or lost to him forever. Sergeant James Michez was engaged to Millie Dineley when he went to war. When he came back he couldn't find the girl he left behind him, so he enlisted in the Marines to "forget." She began working her way around the world to "forget," too. Now they'll live happily ever after.

You wouldn't believe this in a story book. Authors are criticized whenever they let coincidence untangle raveled plots. But in life it's nearly always coincidence that does that very thing.

In the absence of Mrs. Seavey, the president, Mrs. Bertha Svits, vice president, took charge of the meeting.

A short program was enjoyed after the business meeting. Mrs. Roy Lenox gave a reading and little Ruth Stuart a recitation. Victrola music was then listened to, followed by two piano solos by Miss Marian Gilbert. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Martin Lenox, to which the husbands and families are to be invited, and as there is to be an election of officers, a large attendance is desired. The meeting will be held January 11th.

Wedding Anniversary Observed Sunday, 25th

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raffenberg celebrated on Sunday, Christmas Day, their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary at the home of their son, Roy and wife. Mrs. Raffenberg was a sister of Rev. L. L. Lape who was at one time pastor of St. Paul's church in Dixon, and she was also a sister of Rev. W. A. Lape. Rev. W. A. Lape married his sister and Mr. Raffenberg in 1870.

All week relatives and friends have called to congratulate the esteemed couple and many handsome and useful gifts were presented them, with hosts of greeting cards, flowers, etc. A gift for the table is a fine possum which will be served at dinner with sweet potatoes, soon. All friends extend best wishes and congratulations.

Toastmasters Met

The meeting of the Toastmasters Club on Thursday evening, while not well attended, proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the season. In the absence of the President, A. W. Leland presided. A talk on the industry outcome for 1923 was given by Kenneth Rubey and Phillip Mooney of the Sandusky Cement Company, gave a most attractive talk on a new method called the Flagg System of building homes. This new mode of building homes without basements or attics, has been tried out with considerable success and is now being started in the middle west. James Andrews recited several humorous poems, some of which were the product of his father's pen.

The Toastmasters were in receipt of a communication from the Nachusa Orphanage, thanking them for the Christmas party given to them last week.

THE YEAR'S GREAT MAN.

With the year dying, it is the time and the custom to look back and see the way we have come. In our national life what have been the great outstanding events of the year that has gone?

There are many to choose from; the world has been busy. Henry Ford has given to the world a new automobile that soon will be seen on every highway in America and Timbuctoo. Two women have been found guilty of slaying their husbands and one condemned to die. One man has been found not guilty of slaying his wife, and in that there is more news than in all the men convicted of the same offense.

Women have learned to fly and have flung their challenge to oceans. One woman gave her life in an attempt to defeat the Pacific. Another challenged the Atlantic and won a notable victory, but not quite complete.

Who has been the greatest figure in our news year? Was it Calles, under whose direction a revolution was put down and a score of generals and others placed against the wall and shot?

Was it Mustapha Kemal, under whom Turkey is finding her way to progress?

Was it the iron-jawed Mussolini, who has placed Italy under a discipline that is almost medieval in severity, but that the Italians seem to like and prosper on?

Was it Coolidge, who mystified America, and then showed how simple it all had been by repeating his original words, after the country had argued, talked, wondered?

Was it some great author, some great statesman, or some poet whose honeyed words have made the world feel better all the way through?

We think not. We think the greatest man in the world during the year that has passed was a boy, frail of figure and tender of years, but iron of heart and clean of mind.

We think the greatest man of them all was Lindbergh. Why?

He is the spirit of our own youth, our dreaming youth when he saw in our mind's eye mighty castle for the conquering. He has gone out and conquered these castles with a smile, without bravado, with never a boast, but quietly and perseveringly.

He has inspired us. When he left New York he wondered and doubted. Those of us who knew the Atlantic and its cruel ways, might have thought that we had seen the last of a fine young man. Then came the signals from the towns along his coastal route and the ships out in the foggy, storm-swept sea. Then hours of darkness and silence when we waited, without word, and hoped with all our hearts that this boy might win.

Then, coming over us like a great tide, was the news that Lindbergh was passing over Ireland. Other eagles of the air came out to meet him, and he landed at Le Bourget, smiling, triumphant, but honest and plain.

He has given us a model to plan by. Determination, singleness of purpose, frankness, sincerity. He is all these and he is an eternal symbol of daring youth besides. The worlds that so many of us have dreamed of but never invaded have been brought to his feet.

The year has given us a wonderful boy. If we were all a little more like him how much better the world would be!

WHY NOT BE READY?

When the S-51 was sunk off Block Island, New York, naval men said that the only ship in the world specially constructed to lift a submarine was the property of the German government.

Now another disaster has been added to the navy's roll of terrible accidents. When the S-4 went down off Cape Cod, there not only was not such a ship within reach, but there wasn't even a pontoon derrick ship within miles. The pontoons, the same six pontoons that were used in 1925 in salvaging the S-51, were stored in the Brooklyn navy yard and were towed to Provincetown by slow tugs.

The German rescue ship is a combination of separate hulls surmounted by a steel structure carrying great traveling cranes. It is efficient and swift and travels rapidly from place to place.

The S-51 lesson was bitter, but apparently has been forgotten.

Now another sunken sub has brought the same old lesson, with the navy not one bit better prepared to meet the emergency. Why not be ready?

Queen Mary did her own Christmas shopping, we learn. Maybe she feared the king would be crowned in the rush.

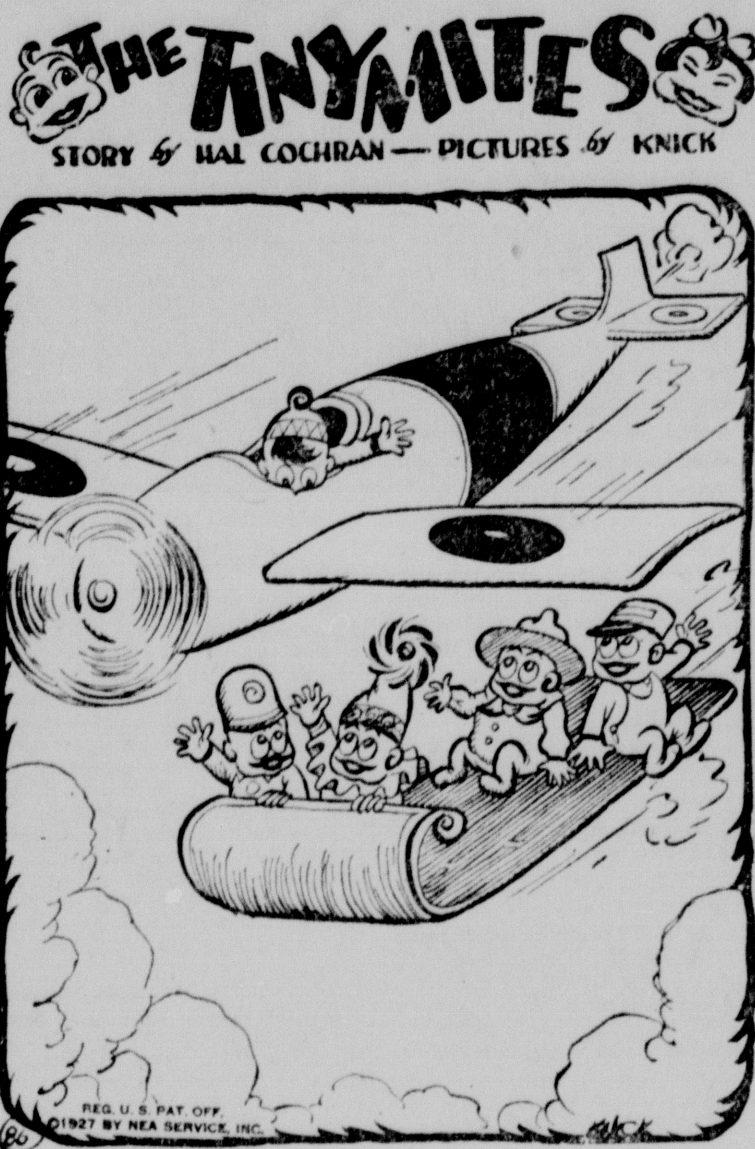

Hughes says he is "not a candidate in any sense." We know several who are candidates, however without any.

A Missouri man walked 12 miles on his 100th birthday. If that had been a lady, it might have been news.

Maybe there isn't a grain of truth in the statement that a few glasses of corn make a man feel his oats.

World peace is a lovely ideal, but one music firm reports it sold 70 saxophones as Christmas gifts.

Christmas is a time when the young swain's future depends greatly upon the present.

"What fun this is," wee Coppy cried. "Be careful, don't slip off the side. As long as our toboggan's straight, I do not think 'twill tip. Let's cling together, hand in hand. Most likely we will soon reach land. Of all the rides we've ever had, this is the queerest trip."

"Oh, look," said Scouty, "here's a rope. Now I can steer this sled, I hope." And, sure enough, he'd pull one end, and round the sled would go. "Hey, hey! Be careful," someone cried. "You'll have this thing upon its side." But Scouty kept on steering and they zigzagged to and fro.

They traveled on an hour or so. Then Carpy said, "I think I'll go to sleep. The rest of you can guard. We'll all take turns at this." The other Tynmites agreed. Said Scouty "Sleep is what we need. We'll hold you tightly to the sled, and naught will go amiss."

When everyone had had his turn, wee Clowny said, "I really yearn to sail back in the air again. It's safer than down here." Then, with a jump, the sled rose high, and once again was in the sky. This pleased the band of Tynmites and they all began to cheer.

They rode along for quite a spell, and then the bunch heard Clowny yell, "What's this that we are coming to? Just look! It's straight ahead. We're getting nearer. Mercy me, we soon will know what it can be." The Tynmites watched, quite thrilled, as on their big toboggan sped.

"Why, it's an airplane," Scouty cried. "It's coming right up by our side." And, as the plane came very close, a wee tot waved his hand. "I'd like to meet him, goodness knows," said Clowny. "Let's see where he goes. We'll follow him until we find just where he's going to land."

SAINT and SINNER

Because her horror-numbed brain had not yet been able to formulate any plans, Faith mechanically parked the sedan before the Myrtle Street house which had once been her home, sat for a long minute—or it might have been several minutes—with her hands on the wheel, staring dazedly at nothing. Then, automatically, she carefully powdered her face without realizing what she was doing, and walked up the path to the house, stiffly but steadily.

"We're waiting dinner, honey," Fay sang out, as she came forward to get the box containing the carving set which Faith still held in her hands, though she had forgotten it completely. "Oh, did you forget the dessert spoons? But it doesn't matter. I was hoping that you'd bring Bob back with you, but I suppose he was too busy."

"Yes," Faith laughed queerly, "he was too busy! Too awfully busy!" "And had Cherry gone out with her date?" Fay asked cheerfully.

"Yes, she was with her date," Faith nodded violently and laughed again. She must stop laughing like this, or she would be screaming—Was this what they called hysterics? "I tell you, Fay," she choked on that crazy, tearing laughter, "it looks serious this time. One of her old flames, probably the only man she ever really loved. But I mustn't tell secrets—Isn't there something I can do to help?"

"Dinner's dished up," Fay assured her. "All but the roast leg of lamb, and Junior's going to carve it in the kitchen. He says he simply won't make a spectacle of himself before everyone else."

Faith tried to listen, as she followed Fay into the dining room, but other words were shrieking in her ears—"Only a coward refuses to face life. I'm not going to let you be a coward, Cherry. Face this thing. Cherry. If it's the real thing—" Then Cherry's passionate wail, "Oh, it is!"

Somehow she found herself seated at the table, on Grandpa Lane's right. Grandpa was cupping his ear with his hand and bending close to her to hear what she was saying, but she had forgotten—At the foot of the table, which Fay had lengthened with all its extension leaves, Grandma Lane was huddled, stoop-shouldered little bundle of too many clothes, dim, smiling eyes, thin gray hair, withered cheeks, sucked close to toothless gums. Faith, striving to clear the mists of horror in which her mind was befogged, looked from Grandpa to Grandma Lane. They were horribly old now and eager only for food and warmth, but had Grandma's heart by loving another woman? Her great stricken brown eyes flitted to Junior, her brother, who had been "wild." Did Junior really love Fay as much as he seemed to, or did he sometimes pick girls up in his car and make love to them? Or was there a girl whom Junior had not been willing to give up when he married, into whose house he crept now and then, guiltily?

"You aren't eating a thing, Faith," Fay worried. "I don't believe you've tasted the lamb—"

"I feel a little sick," Faith said suddenly in a loud, queer voice and rose from the table.

"There's some aromatic spirits of ammonia in the bathroom medicine closet, honey," Fay called anxiously, as Faith ran waveringly from the room.

Because she was afraid she would be followed, Faith locked the door of the bathroom, then crept stealthily to the medicine closet, her mad eyes scanning labels for the welcome sight of skull and crossbones.

DO YOU HURRY?

By Jesse F. Williams, M. D., New York City Member Gorgas Memorial.

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

Modern rush and hurry, high pressure methods, excessive wear and tear and given as explanations at times, a disturbed function of the body. The irregular heart, the indigestion, the sleeplessness, the nervous condition of many persons are attributed in part to these conditions of modern life.

Modern civilization is different from the life that man has known for at least 50,000 years. In less than 150 years he has had to adjust an organism that arose in relation to a simple environment. He has had to take essentially a primitive organism and make an acquaintance with automobile, aeroplanes, constant noise, and the general slogan of "Do It Now."

There are problems of health in such a situation for everyone. Do you have to hurry? Well, there is a difference between rapid movement, quick response, and a feeling of hurry rush and haste. One today must learn to cultivate poise and tranquility in the face of urgent demands for speed. One may drive an automobile forty miles an hour and be muscled, relaxed, mentally unhurried, emotionally tranquil, although such speed is not conducive to tranquility. Untrained, undisciplined persons allow conditions to control them. In them, whatever situation arises, is the explanation of the emotional debauch. Self-control, or self-direction, or self-discipline is a cultivated thing. It is attainable in varying degrees.

Poise, control, balance are as difficult for man in the physical field as they are in the mental. Deprived of the four points of support that once made for security, he is forced to balance upon a base 50 per cent smaller. There are no known degrees of relationship between physical poise and mental poise, but much is suspected from observation. At all events, it is clear that physical states influence mental and emotional ones quite as definitely as the latter do the former. This explains why rushing and hurrying are accompanied by the sense or feeling of haste.

Now all persons who seek to take control of their lives and to direct

SITUATION IN ILL. POLITICS AT MONTH'S END

Friends of Gov. Small Believe He Will be Candidate Again

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Tacked on an inner door of one of the executive offices under the governor is an innocent appearing little sign, designed in appropriate colors to resemble the 1928 automobile license plate of Illinois.

But where the numerals would be on a regular plate, designating a license number, the word "SMALL" appears.

Thus taken in its entirety, the sign reads: "SMALL, Ill. 1928."

To the minds of many, this definitely removes any doubt as to whether Governor Len Small will seek his third election as governor of Illinois. He has as yet declined to make formal announcement of his candidacy but those close to him continue to maintain that the announcement will be forthcoming at the "logical time."

The political situation in Illinois now, while classed as the most unsettled in which the state has been for many years, now begins to take on lines of definiteness.

It is certain that new primary legislation is to be provided by an extraordinary session of legislature, early next year. It is probable that the legislature will call for a fall primary, since Governor Small has expressed a preference for primaries at that time.

Dozen in Field

A dozen republican candidates, more or less, are more or less definitely in the field for the various offices to be filled next year.

Taking it as a foregone conclusion that Gov. Small will run, three are in the race for the highest executive office. Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom will seek the office on the record in his present office, on the strength of an elusive support of the American Legion, and what support he can get from the Chicago district.

Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson will stand on his business administration of the secretary of state's office for the last dozen years; together with a claimed substantial support from southern Illinois.

Small will apparently run a campaign based on the thousands of good roads built during his two terms, and the possibility of support from Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

Three for Sec. of State

The next highest office, that of secretary of state, is sought by three republicans: State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield; Hal W. Trevillon, Herrin editor and member of the Illinois Commerce Commission; and Charles Ball, Chicago, clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court.

Of these three, only Searcy is out in the open with his candidacy. In fact, Searcy was the first to announce for any state office, his announcement being made before adjournment of the 55th General Assembly.

Trevillon has been too busy feeling out sentiment in his southern Illinois territory to make formal announcement. His weekly political paper, "The Egyptian Republican," each week details the comment of state papers on the "possibilities of Trevillon running for secretary of state."

Stratton for Treasurer

Undoubtedly he expects support of the administration, and lack of official word from the governor is said to be one of the things holding up his formal announcement. For a while, it seemed that he would be ousted from his potential candidacy by William J. Stratton, director of the state department of conservation; but the latest word is that Stratton will seek the job of treasurer, for which he was defeated in 1924, leaving the secretary race to the southern Illinois candidate.

Vail has quietly been spoken of as a candidate for many months. He has, however, failed as yet to announce, by direct statement of public implication, his candidacy.

State Senator John Dailey of Peoria, one of the most widely known Illinois legislators, was early in the race for attorney general, when it became known that Carlstrom was out for governor. Dailey has made a speaking tour of southern and south central Illinois, but of recent weeks has been busy with preparations for defense of Senator-elect Frank L. Smith in his fight to gain his seat in Congress.

Opposing Dailey is Charles W. Hadley of Wheaton. Hadley's campaign, to date, has been confined to northern Illinois counties.

For the treasurer's office, last of the political plums on the 1928 tree, three men are contesting, two of them from Rockford. William J. Stratton, before mentioned as a onetime possibility for secretary of state, will probably try for the candidacy with possible support from the administration. The Rockford men are Bruman Johnson, state president of the John Ericson League, and Adalbert R. Floberg, vice president of the Manufacturers National Bank of Rockford. The latter two have publicly announced. Floberg, it is claimed, has the backing of influential business men of northern Illinois.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Good Thoughts for Good People

All the ills of human experience spring from our ignorance of God and His laws governing His creation, of which the Apostle John writes, "All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." If we accept the promise of the alms and goodness of God, the possibility of our accepting evil as real is precluded.

The Christian Science Monitor. God is absolutely good; and so, assuredly, the cause of all that is good, Sir Walter Raleigh.

To escape from evil, we must be made as far as possible like God; and this resemblance consists in becoming just and holy and wise. Plato. A source of cheerfulness to a good mind is the consideration of that Being on whom we have our dependence, and in whom, though we find Him as yet but in the first faint discoveries of His perfections, we see everything that we can imagine as great, glorious, or amiable. We find ourselves everywhere upheld by His goodness and surrounded by an immensity of love and mercy.

Nothing that man ever invents will absolve him from the universal necessity of being good as God is good, righteous as God is righteous, and holy as God is holy.

Charles Kingsley. In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. And God saw everything that he had made, and, behold, it was very good.

Guatemala City, Guatemala, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Running zig-zag across Central America and linking all its capitals an airway of more than 1,300 miles stretched before Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today.

Sometime after Jan. 8 his silver winged monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis, will come to rest in Panama, and the highest honors in these people's power will have been paid the American flyer.

Guatemala found that the two-day stay, ending with Lindbergh's departure this morning, afforded insufficient time to pay him the tribute which was felt due an adopted son.

Belize Is Agog. Today was a public holiday in Belize, British Honduras, which Colonel Lindbergh figured represented a flight of 250 miles from here. British and American flags and colored bunting decked the city, which has never witnessed the landing of an airplane and has only seen a few seaplanes alight in the harbor. A SHORT ONE

Here it is with another YEAR upon us, and it seems like the last one only lasted a WEEK. It takes only three strokes for the change, is the puzzle editor's guess. Par is on page 11.

ACTRESS FOUND SLAIN IN HER N. Y. APARTMENT

Police Mystified by Murder of Olga W. Harrington

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The mysterious murder of a vaudeville actress, who either was shot or beaten to death in her upper west side apartment, occupied the attention of police today.

The body of Mrs. Olga Waters Harrington, 29 years old, clad in a night gown, negligee and bath robe, was found by neighbors on the bath room floor early yesterday; but the fact that she had been murdered was not determined by police until almost 11 hours later.

An early theory that she died from a nasal hemorrhage was discarded by the police. A wound over the left eye, caused by a bullet or a blow, was found.

Belief that robbery might have been the motive for the slaying was expressed by police when they learned that jewelry which Mrs. Harrington had been seen wearing could not be found, along with her pocketbook and the keys to the apartment.

Was Seeking Divorce Mrs. Harrington was the wife of Guy Harrington, stock company actor-manager, against whom she had filed suit for divorce in Binghampton, N. Y. Harrington failed to contest the suit and a final decree was expected next month. Mrs. Harrington had been awarded $10,000.

Harrington, whose engagement to Mrs. Grace Lake of Binghampton, recently was announced in newspapers at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said in that city that he had been separated from his wife for several years and had not seen her heard from her in two years. A woman tenant in the building found the body when she noticed the door of the dead woman's apartment was ajar.

Northwestern Trims Notre Dame 25 to 23

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Two Hoosier sophomores, in the basketball livery of Northwestern, finally turned the tables on the Notre Dame nemesis from their own state, pushing Northwestern out in front 25 to 23 last night in the Purple's first victory over Notre Dame for many years. It was Notre Dame's first defeat in five starts this winter, and three of their victims were Big Ten teams.

When Captain Waldo Fisher, mainstay of Northwestern basketball teams for three years, was forced out on four personal fouls early in the second half, the two Purple sophomores stars decided it was time to establish themselves and from a 17-22 score, they shot up to 25-23 in five minutes of long shots. And to add to their demonstration they held Notre Dame to a mere free throw for the last eight minutes of play. No such riot of cheering was ever seen in Patten gym before, as the crowd of 6,000 broke loose.

Change of Wind Will Help Drinking Water

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Change in the direction of the wind and unceasing efforts of the sanitary and filtration engineers promised to give Chicagoans a less unpleasant drinking water today.

For two days offices of the city health and water departments have been besieged with complaints that the water was "absolutely vile," and that "it tastes like quinine and tar."

City engineer Gayton explained that the water had been tainted by sewage dumped into the lake from the Calumet river in Indiana. Southeast winds have brought it here.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to very eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, pools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

"CHIPS FROM WASHINGTON"by John H. Byers

This is the day after Christmas. The weather is cool but the sun shines brightly. Another Christmas has gone and now we must prepare for the Christmas of 1928. How many of us will be here to celebrate?

Christmas in Washington is always a big event. It is celebrated in the true southern style. Music everywhere. All the churches held special services beginning early Saturday night and closing late Sunday night. Today 18,000 children are guests of the theaters. Thousands of children were made happy. Thousands of dollars were expended for the little ones.

"Mr. Goodfellow" was busy since Saturday morning. There are Christmas trees everywhere. The community tree standing in Sherman Square is very beautiful. At six o'clock Saturday night President Coolidge touched the button and the hundreds of lights came out to the view of over 5,000 people. If you listened in at 5 o'clock you heard the music, the address of Congressman Zihlman of Maryland, giving a history of the tree and his introduction of the President.

I went down to the tree early and was fortunate to get a place about thirty feet from the stand where the President stood. He arrived promptly at 6 o'clock accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John. It was a cold evening and the ground was damp, but the thousands were there and remained over an hour. The President wore a brown hat and looked fine. Mrs. Coolidge wore her famous red hat and fur coat. She smiled all through the exercises. The Marine Band played a half hour concert. John looked as happy as a small boy. With the presidential party were Secretary and Mrs. Kellogg, head of the State Department, and Attorney General Sargeant. Many army and naval officers were present. You heard it all over the radio, sitting in your warm and comfortable home; I heard and saw, but with considerable discomfort. But it was worth while, after all. The carols were given at 10:30 o'clock, but I was at home in a warm room. From my window I heard and enjoyed the singing at St. Peter's church, all of which I enjoyed. At the hour of 12 o'clock a party of musicians stood on the street corner near my "home" and sang the carols. Sure enough, it was Christmas. But there were no home folks, and after all, what is Christmas to a man or woman away from the home folks.

Twelve were injured in auto accidents here on Christmas day. Six burned to death in a home near the city, just across the line in Virginia.

Thirty couples were married Christmas eve.

Mrs. Coolidge helped to give 1,200 baskets to the poor. The children love her.

Washington people bought $32,500 worth of Christmas seals.

During the year 1927, ninety Washington people lost their lives from auto accidents, and 5,457 couples were married. Christmas trade here exceeds all records.

Our Christmas weather was splendid. For the last 43 Christmases, in Washington, it has snowed only seven times and there hasn't been enough snow on the ground to make a snowball with on Christmas since 1914.

Glittering gold, about $400,000 of it, found its way into Christmas stockings hung up by Washington people. At the cash room of the Treasury the demand for $2.50 gold pieces proved so great that customers were limited to two each. There was no limit placed, however, on the half-eagle, so it appears that the largest number issued proved to be $5 gold pieces.

The nation's prominent democrats will hold their "harmony feast" here on January 12th. It is called the Jackson Day dinner. John W. Davis of New York, Democratic candidate for President in 1924, will be the toastmaster. All my Democratic friends from Illinois who will attend are welcome at our office. I am expecting my friend, Devine.

During the short session of Congress held prior to the holiday vacation, a total of 8,459 measures were introduced and 47 bills and resolutions were passed. All are now before the Senate, with the exception of the Deficiency bill, which passed both Houses and has been signed by the President. During this short session messages received from the President numbered 34 and 256 executive documents were presented as well as 417 resolutions reported out by the committees totaled 75. A total of 22 bills and joint resolutions were passed by the House and sent to the Senate, and 25 other resolutions requiring House action only were approved. And yet there are people back home who insist that Congressmen do nothing but "gab." Pretty decent record for three weeks.

Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, who lives at Dixon, and is well known there, is here again this winter and is living at the Government Hotel. Last summer she was abroad. Late this winter she anticipates a trip to the Holy Land. Mrs. Whitney is a frequent caller at our office, and gives me a history of Dixon's oldest inhabitants. She tells me that she is still an active member of the Dixon Woman's Club.

I find that Congressman U. S. Guyer, who represents the Second District in Kansas, was born at Paw Paw, in our county. He tells me his father was a preacher there in 1865 and remained there until 1875. He told me an interesting tale of the bridge disaster. This summer he says he is going back to Paw Paw to look up some of his old friends. I told him that Jim LaPorte would give him the keys of the city. I also invited him to stop at Dixon and take a look at the bridge and get acquainted with some real people. His father's name was Rev. Joseph Guyer and I'll bet that Judge Harry Edwards can give you some information about the Guyer family. I don't mean that the Judge is old, not by any means, but I do know that he knows something about the history of every family in Lee county.

Today is a holiday here. Every Department is closed and the thousands of government clerks are in the theaters and other places of amusement. The House Office Building is as quiet as a grave yard. All congressmen are celebrating somewhere. Nearly all of the Illinois congressmen are in their districts fixing their fences. The secretaries are watching the offices, but not doing much work. The morning's mail brought to our office about twenty-five letters, which will appear that some of the folks back home do write their congressmen during the holiday season. It is now after 12 o'clock and no more mail deliveries, so the rest of the day will be without much confusion.

I read Friday's and Saturday's Telegraph this morning so I have all the news from home. It seems like you have had a big Christmas; no serious accidents, all happiness. I wish I were with you today. I hope there was an abundance of Christmas cheer in every Dixon home, and I wish for you all a Happy New Year, with abundance of success and prosperity for the year 1928.

Mother Hunted as Kidnaper

Nation-wide search has been instituted for Mrs. G. Wallace Bryant and her two daughters, pictured above. The juvenile court deprived her of their custody last July because of sensational charges in a $100,000 alienation of affections suit Mr. Bryant has filed against Henry Westal, prominent golfer and clubman of Asheville, N. C. Mr. Bryant is a nephew of Henry Ford.

Couldn't Get Pride of Detroit in Air

Daytona Beach, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, world fliers, made a start in their attempted endurance flight here today, but the motor of the Pride of Detroit failed to develop sufficient power to keep the heavily loaded craft in the air.

After rolling smoothly down the beach for one and three-tenths miles, the monoplane, carrying 550 gallons of gasoline and weighing approximately 6,000 pounds, rose about ten feet in the air and began wobbling perceptibly.

The fliers dumped their main gasoline tank of 190 gallons and brought the wheels safely back on the sands. Another attempt will be made tomorrow.

Former Dry AgentsIndicted by Jurors

Chicago, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Fredder P. Kuhn and Eugene F. Blackburn, suspended prohibition agents, were indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of extortion and conspiracy to extort.

According to Leo Klein, an Assistant United States District Attorney they obtained $300 from a Niles Center saloon keeper after threatening to arrest him.

HOPE TO RAISE S-4 BEFORE END OF PRESENT WEEKFavorable Weather is Helping Salvage Operations

Provincetown, Mass., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Hope for the early recovery of some of the bodies of the victims of the S-4 submarine disaster was raised today as the naval salvage fleet sought to take advantage of continued good weather.

Favorable conditions yesterday enabled divers to complete half of the second tunnel under the hull of the submerged craft and it was expected that the bore might be well under way by nightfall today.

The second tunnel probably will be the last required to raise the wreck. Then divers will penetrate the inside of the hull to seal compartments preliminary to the unwatering operations which will precede attachment of pontoons to the chains which are to be looped about the submersible through the tunnels.

Barring storms or unforeseen developments, this work should be done by the end of the week.

Uncover Stone CasketNear 4,000 Years Old

London, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Discovery near Rainham, Essex, of a stone coffin estimated at between 3,000 and 4,000 years old containing the fragments of two skeletons, is reported by the Evening Star.

The discovery was made in a locality where pottery declared by scientists to date from 2,000 B. C. had previously been found.

INDIANA 'EXPERT' PRAISES NAVY'S SALVAGE WORKS

Was Given Royal Treatment by Rear Admiral at Provincetown

Boston, Dec. 29.—(AP)—A garage keeper of LaFayette, Ind., was speeding home today after a round of adventure in the course of which he inspected salvage operations at the scene of the S-4 disaster at Provincetown, was dined by Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, whisked across Massachusetts Bay in a destroyer and finally sent to his hotel here in an Admiral's private car.

Charles Shambaugh, was introduced to newspapermen by a Captain in full uniform at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Reporters summoned to meet "a civilian expert" found themselves confronted by a middle-aged man, soberly dressed with well worn but polished shoes, a leather coat, a suit of plain mixture, a plain white shirt and a sober tie. He clutched a gray cap in nervous hands.

Praises Navy
"The navy is doing everything possible," Shambaugh began. "I have been watching them all day, and they are doing wonderful work. Why, do you realize, those divers have to go down 100 feet before they begin to work. Gosh, I think I'd be doing pretty good if I just got down 100 feet, with all those weights and heavy shoes, to say nothing of getting up again."

Shambaugh arrived at the navy yard Tuesday.

It was too late to catch a destroyer which had just steamed out of the harbor so the naval tug Mohave was used.

"Did they know you at the navy yard?" he was asked.

"Oh no, I had a long telegram from Admiral Brumby. You see when I read about the wreck I sent Admiral Brumby a telegram telling him that I was interested and wanted a conference with him."

"Did he tell you to come?"

"Got Long Message"

"Well, I'll tell you. I don't remember the words but it was a long telegram and it came direct from Provincetown. It was so downright warm and friendly that I know I'd be welcome when I got there."

Shambaugh spent the night on the flagship, the mine sweeper Bushnell after having eaten with the admiral. He was accommodated in officers' quarters.

The next day he inspected the Bushnell, her companion ship, the Falcon, from which diving operations are conducted, and after that the S-6, a submarine somewhat like the S-4.

He refrained, he admitted, from suggesting improvement in operations to the admiral, but, then, there was little improvement that seemed needed.

Under questioning he conceded he was not an expert at all and knew nothing about salvage work, had never seen a diver until yesterday and, as a matter of fact, it was the second time he had ever been aboard a boat.

That ended the interview. The admiral's car was at the door and Shambaugh stepped in. As it sped out of the navy yard guards at the gate snapped to attention and the "expert" was on his way home.

LEADING MERCHANT
LaFayette, Ind., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Charles Shambaugh, who yesterday was the guest of the Navy at the scene of the S-4 salvage operations, is regarded as a leading business man of LaFayette.

Shambaugh is known as a charitable man, and it is believed here that a generous impulse to render any service possible, led him to visit the submarine disaster scene.

Operator of an automobile agency and owner of LaFayette's largest garage, Shambaugh is one of the city's wealthiest men. He is between 50 and 55 years old, was the first automobile mechanic in LaFayette, and established the first garage in this city about 1900. He has lived in LaFayette all his life.

Nat'l. Press Club
in Its New Rooms

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Washington newspapermen had new quarters today with the moving of the National Press Club into the spacious rooms set aside for it in the new $10,000,000 National Press Building.

The modern newspaper row of the Capitol thus occupies the site of the historic Ebbitt House at Fourteenth and F streets in the heart of the city and by coincidence within half a square of the old newspaper row on Fourteenth street which was recently razed.

The new home is the fourth to be occupied by the club which was organized twenty years ago in rooms over a store on F street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. Present quarters on the top floor of the Albee building have been occupied since 1914 and have been visited by most of the leaders in world affairs during that period.

The late "Uncle Joe" Cannon spent many hours playing dominoes, one of the club's favorite games, in the club rooms abandoned today.

Wife of Congressman
Leaves Wash. Hospital

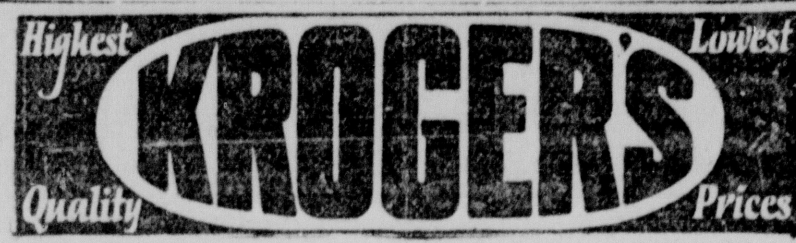

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Mrs. J. Earl Major, wife of Representative Major of Hillsboro, Ill., was able to leave emergency hospital today after more than a month of treatment for injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Frederick, Md. Mrs. Major, who had both legs broken in the accident Nov. 26, was taken to her apartment in this city.

Alabama's Claim to Muscle Shoals "N. G."

Washington, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The claim of the state of Alabama to title to Muscle Shoals is without foundation, Assistant Attorney General Palmer held today in an opinion submitted to Attorney General Sargent.

The Assistant Attorney General held that the United States government had full and complete title to Wilson Dam and the nitrate properties and all other government structures around Muscle Shoals.

TWO AMERICANS STILL SERVING FRENCH LEGION

Release of Doty Calls
Attention to Yanks
Still on Rolls

By THOMAS T. TOPPING
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Sidi-Bel-Abbes, Algeria—(AP)—Only two Americans remain in the French Foreign Legion since Bennett J. Doty of Bloxi, Miss., who enlisted as Gilbert Clare of Memphis, Tenn., was released to return home—a striking contrast to the American muster roll during the world war, when at one time a hundred citizens of the United States were members of the Legion.

Many of these found glorious death in battle, but of them little was heard. The Foreign Legion career of Doty attracted more attention in the United States than those of all the American boys who died in the war with the famous French military unit.

Doty served brilliantly in Syria, but it was his desertion, his subsequent trial and sentence and finally his dramatic release four years before his enlistment expired which focussed world attention upon him and the Foreign Legion.

Lieut. W. Hamilton of Connecticut is one of the two Americans left in the Legion. He is serving at Marrakech. The other is a private at Sidi-Bel-Abbes.

Most of the nations of the world, from China and Indo-China to Canada, are represented in the two regiments which now compose the Foreign Legion, but 60 per cent of the foreign members are Germans, most of them soldiers in the world war and many of them former officers.

Formed, as it now is, of adventurers from all parts of the globe, nine-tenths of them under assumed names, many of them men who have served prison terms in their own countries or who are fugitives from justice, the Legion can safely be said to be "hard-boiled."

Months of common hardships and danger, however, not only make the Foreign Legion the finest fighting unit in the French army, but have caused many true friendships to bloom among the Legionnaires.

"They would give their life without a murmur to save a comrade," one of the adjutants said, "but after saving his life many of them would steal his watch just as light heartedly."

The Legion now is scattered throughout Morocco and the northern Sahara.

The discipline in the Legion is very severe and there have been tales about brutality of non-commissioned officers toward privates, but Doty said to The Associated Press, "The discipline is severe but I have nothing to complain of. I didn't expect any pink tea when I joined. I never was kicked in the stomach or smashed in the face with a riding crop."

Colonel Rollet, commanding officer at Sidi-Bel-Abbes, made no pretense at hiding his opposition to Doty's release.

"Had we been the fire and blood eaters that some of the people in your country picture us as being, you should have been executed in Syria within 24 hours after your desertion in the face of the enemy," he told Doty. The he queried, "I should like to know what would happen to an American soldier who would desert on the Rio Grande if you were at war with Mexico and the Mexican troops across the river."

The French Foreign Legion was created in 1831 for the purpose, the decree said, of utilizing the services of foreigners desirous of placing themselves in the service of France.

It was during the world war, however, that the Legion covered itself with glory and suffered the most tremendous losses of any units engaged on the allied or any other front. Paul Ayres Rockwell and his brother Kiffin, both of North Carolina, were the first American to enlist in the Foreign Legion when war was declared in 1914.

The Legion numbering three regiments, was in every offensive of any importance throughout the war. In the Champagne drive of 1915, the first regiment was practically wiped out, and the Legion was condensed into two regiments. But thousands of foreigners offered their services to France and four new regiments were formed—one of them composed entirely of Italian volunteers.

In one squad of the second regiment alone, these Americans were serving at the beginning of 1915: Kiffin and Paul Rockwell; Alan Seeger, the American writer; Ferdinand Capdevielle, New York; Dennis Dowd, Brooklyn; William Thaw, Pittsburgh; Stewart Carstairs, Philadelphia, and Frederick Zinn, Battle Creek, Mich. They were the tallest men in the battalion. Kiffin Rockwell, Capdevielle, Dowd and Seeger, all lost their lives.

"SILENT ROOM" AWAITING RUTH SNYDER JAN. 9

Room Where No Laughter Has Ever Been Heard in Prison

By HORTENSE SAUNDERS
NEA Service Writer

Ossining, N. Y.—The woman who in gayer days was beautiful "Tommy" Snyder will enter the Sing Sing prison death chamber one gray morning the week of January 9, unless executive clemency spares her.

"Silence," placards on each of four otherwise bare walls will command. Ironical warnings! For the death chamber is the most silent place this side the tomb. It is silent with an unnatural quietude that strains at the eardrums and bears down like a terrific weight on the nerves.

Never Laughter
The room thus placarded is one where scores have been put to death, but where no person ever laughs.

Ruth Snyder's farewells already will have been said. She will be attended by one or two prison matrons. She may see as many as 30 sober faces lined along the walls—guards, witnesses, medical experts, reporters.

The guards will speak, if at all, in whispers. No one ever becomes completely hardened to the death chamber; Conn., the "ace of aces," Paul Pavelka, Maison, Conn.; Rene Phelliot, Chicago, and many other Americans who enlisted in the Foreign Legion saw it through to the bitter end and gave their lives for the cause they had chosen to defend.

ber's chill procedure—certainly, at least, not when it is a woman who is to die.

Across the room, Ruth Snyder will see a door. It leads to a mortuary, equipped with five marble slabs.

A Last Prayer
A cleric will break the silence for a few moments, reading the litany of the doomed and pronouncing a last prayer.

Ruth will be strapped to the room's one sinister piece of furniture a moment afterward. The straps go across the shoulders, around wrist and ankle and below the knee.

The tensest moment of an execution, say veteran prison attendants, is the one before the electric current is switched on. Theoretically, there is the possibility that someone will burst stage-fashion into the room shouting "Stop! Stop! A reprieve from the governor."

The electric lights throughout Ossining and half a dozen neighboring towns are dimmed when the switch is thrown. They are dimmed once, twice, perhaps a third time.

The brain registers no pain in an electrocution, say the medical experts. If the object of society's discipline were able to meet the death shock with a smile, the smile would remain on the face. Stilling of the mental faculties is instantaneous.

Doctors apply stethoscopes after each application of the current. The body is wheeled to the mortuary.

Among the less emotional speculators, there may be a bit of murmuring. But generally they file out of the death chamber into the bright hallways—silently.

Ring and Mat Shows Profitable to Ill.

Chicago, Dec. 30—(AP)—The legalized business of boxing and wrestling returned to the state of Illinois during 1927 a net profit of $306,994.95, the Athletic Commission revealed in its annual report today.

The sum of $3,893,603 was paid by 507,940 persons to see 156 boxing and wrestling shows in Illinois during the year.

The Dempsey-Tunney title match at Soldier Field, September 22 was the principal reason for the high total of receipts. The state tax on that fight alone was $241,559.43.

There were 805 bouts during the twelvemonth, and 93 penalties were imposed by the commission. Forty-eight of these were reprimands for minor infractions of the boxing code.

The word "reverend" occurs but once in the Bible, in the ninth verse of the 111th Psalm.

BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN BY ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc. "BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel.

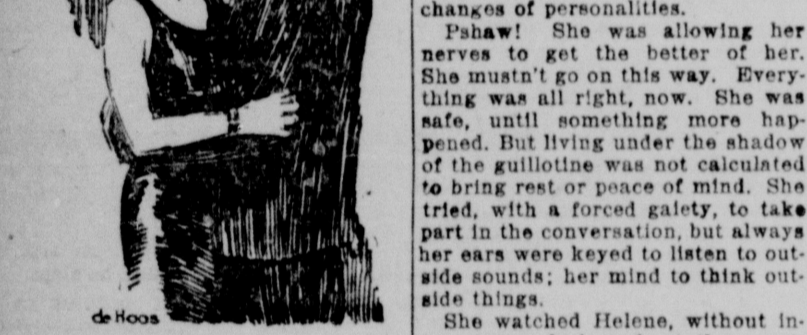

SYNOPSIS Myra Martin, secretary to Leonard Gilbert, a divorce lawyer to whom she is engaged, discovers that her younger sister, Helene, has become infatuated with Huntley Sheldon, a wealthy Don Juan whose wife, Nina, is making a fourth attempt to divorce him. Myra disguises herself and goes to Sheldon's hunting lodge to frighten him into giving up Helene. Sheldon, recognizing Myra, pretends a heart attack, forcing her to remain with him all night. Nina arrives next morning, but Myra escapes without being identified. Then she finds that Helene has eloped with Ralph Naylor. Myra, believing herself safe from detection, has just received a warning visit from Sheldon.

CHAPTER XII—Continued "I must say, you're the right kind of a sister-in-law," Ralph enthused, sitting opposite Myra and pulling Helene down beside him. "I'm sorry that we had to run off that way, and I do hope you didn't worry."

"No, I didn't, Ralph," Myra spoke seriously. "When I found Helene's note saying that she had gone with you, I knew that she was in good hands. Of course, I always thought that she was a little young—"

"Now, we'll have it," Helene chuckled. "O, Myra, please don't spoil our evening by telling Ralph all my drawbacks. He thinks I'm just perfect as I am, don't you, darling?"

"I certainly do," Ralph blushed. "But wasn't it funny about Helene getting locked in? She was simply furious when she called me, and I came running to find out what the trouble was. I got her calmed down a bit, and I've known for a long time that the only way to get this red headed vixen to marry me was to take her quite unawares. So I broke in the closet door and got her clothes, and told her she'd be terribly compromised if she didn't marry me right away, and for once in her life she agreed with me. Didn't you, funny face?" Ralph rumbled Helene's red hair until she began pummeling him.

There that's about all there is to the formalities."

"I can't imagine how you ever locked yourself in, Helene," Myra's eyes twinkled. "Nor can I," Helene returned gravely. "The only thing I can imagine is that I must have locked the door without noticing it, and then the key slipped out of the lock and got lost. Perhaps we'll find it one of these days, under the rugs, or something."

"Perhaps we will," Myra repeated. "But tell me about the wedding."

"O, we took my car," Ralph explained, "and stopped at the first town we came to. We were headed south. And we asked a policeman where the nearest minister or justice of the peace lived, and he gave us an address, and then we found the funniest old man imaginable, and he got his wife to be a witness, and we just got married, that's all." "I really can't remember much about it," Helene laughed. "But I thought you were going to be gone longer," Myra said. "Couldn't," Ralph answered. "Now that I've got such an expensive wife to support I thought I'd better get back to work. No, really, though, I had an important board meeting scheduled for Tuesday, and I had to get back for that. Later on this winter I thought we might take a long trip—probably Europe, or something like that."

"Wouldn't that be heavenly," Helene sighed. "That would be lovely, Ralph, and I know Helene would enjoy it thoroughly. She's never been abroad," Myra nodded. "I'd like to be going myself, I've—"

Once more the door bell rang.

Seize Man's Wine But Make no Arrest Wapello, Iowa, Dec. 29—(AP)—One hundred gallons of wine, said to be three or four years old, was confiscated here late yesterday by Sheriff George Oaks, but no arrests were made and none are contemplated.

The wine was the property of Alfred Silverthorne and was stored in his apartment in the Silverthorne building here. He has been living in California since last April.

Reports that those on the "inside" were making frequent trips to the apartment and helping themselves to the wine caused complaints that the place was a nuisance to be made, resulting in the raid.

None of the wine was sold, according to the officials, and therefore no charges of violation of the prohibition laws can be preferred. The wine was taken to the county jail, where it will be held until the court decided what disposition will be made of it.

NEGRO WIFE OF RHINELANDER IS AFTER DIVORCE

Asks No Specific Alimony from Her to Millions

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The martial affairs of Leonard Kip Rhinelander, heir to $100,000,000 and his wife, daughter of a negro chauffeur, are to be before the courts again in a separation suit brought by his wife.

Mrs. Rhinelander, who two years ago defeated the attempts of her husband to secure an annulment of their marriage on the grounds that she had deceived him as to her race and color, now asks for a separation on the basis of cruelty, inhuman treatment and abandonment. She asks no specific alimony.

Papers in the suit were delivered yesterday at the office of Sheriff Underhill for service against Rhinelander.

Meanwhile Rhinelander, the New York Daily News said today, has gone to Louisiana to establish a residence preliminary to seeking divorce.

It first became public knowledge in November, 1924, that Rhinelander, then 22, and son of one of the state's oldest families, had been married for a month to Alice Beatrice Jones, 23, a nurse maid, whose father was a negro taxi-driver. Soon afterward Rhinelander filed suit for annulment, but was defeated in a legal battle which was carried to the higher courts.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The story is told in the Indian territory and along the Kansas border in the 80's, when a fight was being waged for the opening of the territory to settlement.

Chief characters are:
TONY HARRISON, orphaned at 13 when his father was shot in a poker game.
PAWNEE BILL, adventurer, teacher, Indian interpreter, showman.
JOE CRAIG, who takes Tony to the Bar K ranch to live.
TITUS MOORE, owner of the Bar K brand.
RITA, his little tomboy daughter.

Some years later, when Rita and her mother depart for the east and a finishing school, the boy learns for the first time how much he cares for Titus Moore's red-haired, arrogant daughter.

Moore is one of the chief opponents of the movement to open Oklahoma. Word is received that DAVID PAYNE, leader of the movement, is dead, and Tony, in his loyalty to Moore, is troubled because of his sympathy for Payne's cause.

Rita comes back for a visit and Tony is forlorn in the knowledge of his hopeless love for her. Finally, in desperation, he declares himself, and when she reluctantly admits she is engaged to another he leaves the ranch.

CHAPTER XXXV

"He's lit out—I don't know where," Craig informed her. And then a return of the suspicion that had prompted him to question Tony a few minutes before his departure led him to inquire sharply, "Look here, did that boy do anything to make you feel bad?"

"No, no," she said hastily, and added slowly, "I feel badly, Joe, but not at anything Tony's done. Please remember that."

"I will, Rita, you've been crying, and it just breaks me all up. Can't you tell Joe Craig just what it's all about? I'll bet it was that damn Tony after all," he added belligerently.

"Dear old Joe," she said softly, forcing a smile. "You'd be bound to take my part, wouldn't you?" She patted his arm, heard him smother an exclamation at her touch. "Is your arm hurt, Joe?"

"I'm sorry."

"I banded it against a fence post this evening," he lied. "Must have sprained my wrist or something."

He eyed her commiseratingly. "Look here, Rita; can't I help you out? Did you and Tony have a fight? Just say the word and I'll ride after him and haul him back."

"A fine chance you'd have of catching Cherokee," she scorned, with a brave little attempt at a laugh. "No," she added, her voice higher, "I'm nervous. I did you hear hear mother or father mention the Forsytes of Washington?"

He reflected a moment. "Seems to me I did."

"Father no doubt will make some sort of announcement before I leave, but I wanted to be the first to tell you; I want you to be the first to congratulate me. I'm engaged to marry Herbert Forsythe."

He stood as if rooted to the spot, stared at her dumbly.

"Aren't you going to congratulate me?" she asked. "Don't—her voice trembled with hysteria—"don't you see how happy I am? Why don't you say something?"

His eyes were frightened. He closed them, as if to shut out the sight of something that hurt him. He made no answer but reached out an arm and gathered her to him. She had found the understanding she had been craving. He patted her gently as she leaned against him and cried on his shoulder, her body wracked by violent sobs.

Mayor Thompson took the same view.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS RICKARD WANTS TO STAGE NEXT FIGHT IN EAST

Seeking Yank Stadium as Scene for Fistic
Encounter

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The schedule makers of the American League—and not Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Jack Sharkey or Tom Heeney—will have the most to say as to just where and when Tex Rickard promotes the world heavyweight title fight in 1928.

Tex wants to stage the big bout at the Yankee Stadium some time within the first two weeks of September but he can't make any definite arrangements until the schedule-makers reveal whether the world's baseball champions will be at home or on the road during that period.

Rickard has definitely decided to use the big American League park but it will require a few days for his workmen to convert it into a boxing arena, arranged to seat 100,000 spectators where only 65,000 may gather for the ball games.

To Hold On To Tunney
No amount of cajoling will induce the promoter to give up his exclusive rights to the heavyweight champion's services, he declared. In outlining the standing of Jack Dempsey as a challenger, Tex asserted the former champion can meet Tunney without a previous test only in case Tom Heeney and Jack Sharkey both "look terrible" in their elimination battle here January 13.

"These youngsters deserve a chance," he said, but he indicated it would be a "shame" to waste the "perfect" ballyhoo that sounded for a third match after the one-time Manassa Mauler floored Tunney for the "long count" at Chicago last September.

Rickard said there was no place in the elimination ranks for George Godfrey, latest "black menace," who boasts a formidable string of knock-out victories.

"He's one of the worst fighters I ever saw," the promoter declared. "Besides Tunney wouldn't meet a Negro, even if Godfrey knocked out a few more set-ups."

Canzoneri Favorite to Win from Taylor

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, New York featherweight, rules a 7 to 5 favorite to wrest a decision tonight in his 10-round bout against Bud Taylor, the hard-hitting boxer of Terre Haute, Ind. Canzoneri concluded his training weighing about 125 pounds while his rival tipped the beam at 122.

While Taylor is the bantamweight champion of the National Boxing Association, no title will be at stake as both boxers are above weight. A victory for Canzoneri will practically assure the New Yorker of a bout with Benny Bass of Philadelphia which will be recognized as a featherweight championship tilt. On the other hand, Taylor will have the same opportunity offered to him in the event he is victor.

Taylor and Canzoneri have met in the ring twice before. On one occasion, a draw verdict resulted and Taylor won by a narrow margin in the other encounter.

Kentucky Jockey Club to Disband?

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Dissolution of the Kentucky Jockey Club, recently demanded by Attorney General Frank Daugherty in a suit filed here, was recommended by the Board of directors of the club itself at a meeting here yesterday.

The directors' plan, offered for approval of the stockholders, was the transfer of all Kentucky Jockey Club assets to a holding company organized as a Delaware corporation and the formation of new operating companies to take over the management of race tracks at Louisville and Latonia.

Mr. Daugherty declared last night that the jockey club's proposal to abolish itself as a unit would have "no effect whatsoever" on the dissolution suit of the commonwealth.

NATIONAL COL. A. BACK IN OLYMPIC COMMITTEE FOLD

Accepts Invitation to Return to Competitive Tryouts

New York, Dec. 30.—(AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association is back in the Olympic fold.

By unanimous vote, it passed the following resolution yesterday:

"Being assured that the tryouts for the Olympic games of 1928 will be conducted on the basis of 1924, we recommend that in the interest of international amity and international sport that the association accept the invitation of the president of the Olympic committee to resume membership in the American Olympic association."

The collegiate group bolted the Olympic ranks a year ago at Washington along with the National Amateur Athletic Federation, the Y. M. C. A. and the Western Conference. The federation agreed to re-join the Olympic body on Wednesday and the other two organizations are expected to take similar action in the near future.

Under the tryout program now instituted, the 1928 championships of the N. C. A. A. will be on the same basis as the A. A. U. sectional tryouts with the winners qualifying for the final Olympic trials.

Sectional trials of the Association will be held as follows: wrestling at Ames, Ia., March 30 and 31; swimming, at the University of Pennsylvania, March 30 and 31; track and field, at Chicago, June 8 and 9.

St. Louis, Dallas and Los Angeles bid for the 1928 convention but New Orleans was chosen.

Twenty-Two Fighters in Chicago This Eve

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Twenty-two boxers of varied race, size and ability are the principals in a novel ring program of eleven four-round bouts at the Coliseum tonight.

Les Marriner, end on the University of Illinois conference football championship team, and heavyweight champion of the Central A. U., makes his professional ring debut against Mickey Smith in one of four big men bouts. Bill Tate, former Sparboy for Jack Dempsey, lights Cecil Harris in another.

At the other end of the scale, Ernie Peters, Indian flyweight, meets Kid Jap, and Blas Rodriguez, Mexican 112 pounder, boxes Davey Adelman of Philadelphia. Genaro Pino, Filipino bantam, and Sonny Lloyd are the bantam contenders.

One middleweight match, a set of welterweights, and two pairs of lightweights fill out the card.

Three Title Battles Planned by Mullen

Chicago, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Three titleholders are on the ring programs planned by Promoter Jim Mullen for the next two months, with signatures of many of his headliners already obtained.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight titleholder, and Jimmy McLarnin, Coast sensation, probably will be put on first sometime in January. McLarnin won an "elimination" match at Detroit recently, but it develops he has considerable difficulty in making the 135 pound title limit, so the bout probably will go on at 136 pounds with Mandell's crown not in danger.

Joe Dundee, the welterweight king, and Tommy Freeman, Cleveland contender, are another pair sought by Mullen for a January show. K. O.

Largest Field House in World

For the first time the annual Western Conference indoor track and field championships will not be held this winter in Chicago. The games are to be held at Iowa City, Ia., on March 9 and 10 in the new University of Iowa field house, shown here, the largest of its kind in the country. It cost $450,000 to build, is large enough to be used for football practice and has a cinder track of six laps to the mile. It will accommodate 800 spectators.

Kaplan and Billy Wallace, lightweight contenders, are planned to top another card.

As a third invasion of the light heavyweight ranks, Mickey Walker will be pitted in February against Jimmy Slattery, recently holder of a sympathetic share in the title of that division. Walker so far has been successful in polishing off the heavier boxers.

Final Workouts for Penn-Calif. Meeting

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Light workouts to put on the finishing touches were on the program today for the football teams of the universities of Pennsylvania and California preparatory to their classic tomorrow in Memorial Stadium here.

Both teams indulged in short workouts yesterday with scrimmage barred.

Coach Lou Young of the Quakers announced that the team was in first class condition. Their nearly two weeks' practice in the Stadium here has accustomed them to the surroundings.

The starting lineup of the Pennsylvanians calls for John Shober, Paul Scull, Murphy and Wascolson in the backfield.
